To Whom It May Concern:

REACH identifies stringent levels of potential harmful components for packaging products. PouchWorth and our First-Tier suppliers have letters from each of our suppliers stating that they meet the substances in the most recent Candidate List on December 2014. Neither PouchWorth nor our First-Tier suppliers add any of the regulated items in our process or handling, we can ascertain that our materials are in fact compliant on these issues based on this.

Thank you for your interest in our products. Let us know how we can further service you.
